YOUR NEXT HAIRCUT

15 Questions to Ask Your Stylist

A simple salon-visit checklist to help you choose a cut that suits your hair, lifestyle, and personal style.

01 Which haircut would best suit my face shape and features?

02 What styles would work with my hair texture—straight, wavy, curly, or coily?

03 Will this cut work with my hair's thickness and natural volume?

04 How much length do you recommend taking off, and why?

05 Would layers add movement, or could they make my hair look thinner?

06 Would bangs or face-framing pieces complement this haircut?

07 How will this style look when I let my hair air-dry?

08 How much daily styling will this haircut need?

09 Which tools and products would help me recreate the look at home?

10 Can you show me how to style it step by step?

11 Will this cut grow out well, or will it need frequent trims?

12 How often should I come back for a trim to maintain the shape?

13 Are there any concerns with my hair's condition that we should consider first?

14 Can we adjust this inspiration photo to suit my hair rather than copy it exactly?

15 What is one easy way to change the look for special occasions?

Before you sit in the chair: Bring 2–3 inspiration photos, but be open to your stylist's advice. Tell them how much time you usually spend styling your hair, what you like about your current cut, and what you would like to change.

A great haircut is one that feels like you—and works for your real, everyday life.
